SCHEDULE

CHAPTER 10.18
SMALL TENEMENTS ACT

AN ACT TO MAKE PROVISION RELATING TO SMALL TENEMENTS; AND TO PROVIDE FOR RELATED OR INCIDENTAL MATTERS.

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as the Small Tenements Act.

Interpretation.

2. In this Act—

“land” includes houses, chattel or moveable houses, buildings and all other corporeal hereditaments, but does not include a small holding within the meaning of the Agricultural Small Holdings Act, Cap. 14.02;

“landlord” includes the attorney or agent of any landlord and also any person appointed to act on behalf of the Crown in dealing with any lands, buildings or corporeal or incorporeal hereditaments vested in the Crown;

“rent” includes any part of any crop rendered or any equivalent given in kind or in labour in consideration of which a landlord has permitted any person to use and occupy any land, house or other corporeal hereditament.

Tenant holding over.

3. When and as soon as the term or interest of the tenant of any land held by him or her at will or for any term not exceeding seven years either without being liable to the payment of any rent or at a rent not exceeding the rate of one thousand dollars per annum shall have ended or shall have been duly determined by a notice to quit as hereinafter prescribed or otherwise and such tenant or (if such tenant does not actually occupy the premises or only occupies a part thereof) any person by whom the same or any part thereof are then actually occupied neglects or refuses to quit and deliver up possession of the premises or any part thereof respectively such tenant or person shall be deemed to be a person holding over.

(Amended by Act 7 of 1976)

Notice by landlord to tenant holding over.

4. Where a person is holding over whose tenancy has ended or been determined otherwise than by a notice to quit, the landlord may cause a notice in writing to be served upon such person as aforesaid calling upon him or her to quit and deliver up possession of the premises held over by him or her within seven days of the service of such notice as aforesaid.

Person holding over and neglecting to give possession may be summoned.

5. Upon the expiration of the time limited in any notice to quit as in the two last preceding sections mentioned if the person holding over neglects or refuses to quit and deliver up possession of the premises mentioned in such notice to quit as aforesaid it shall be lawful for a Magistrate on the application of the landlord to issue a summons in the form set forth in the Schedule calling on the person holding over to appear on the day fixed in the summons and show cause why possession should not be given to the landlord under the provisions of this Act.

Magistrate to hear and determine the matter.

6. (1) On the day of appearance as in the last preceding section mentioned if the person holding over appears, or if he or she does not appear, then on proof of the due service of the summons the landlord shall give evidence of the end or other determination of the tenancy with the time and manner thereof and of the holding over, and (where the title of the landlord has accrued since the letting of the premises) of the right by which he or she claims possession, and of the service of the notice to quit, and it shall be lawful for the Magistrate to determine the matter and, subject to the succeeding provisions of this section, to give such judgment and make such orders therein under the provisions of this Act as to him or her shall seem fit.

(2) Where the land to which the tenancy relates is subject to the provisions of any Act restricting the rents payable therefor and the recovery of the possession thereof, no judgment or order shall be given or made under subsection (1) unless the Magistrate is satisfied that power has been conferred on him or her so to do under the provisions of any such law.

(3) Where a chattel or moveable house of a value of not less than two hundred dollars, which is not the property of the landlord, (hereinafter in this section referred to as “the premises”) has been placed by a tenant or his or her predecessor in title on the land in respect of which possession is sought by the landlord and such premises is used by the tenant as his or her dwelling, no judgment or order shall be given or made under subsection (1) unless the Magistrate is satisfied that—

- (a) it is reasonable to give such judgment or make such order having regard to all the circumstances of the case; and
- (b) suitable alternative accommodation is available for the tenant or will be available for him or her when the judgment or order takes effect.

(4) For the purposes of subsection (3)—

- (a) suitable alternative accommodation means accommodation which is reasonably suitable to the needs of the tenant as regards rental and to the needs of the tenant and his or her family as regards proximity to place of work, as well as character and extent in relation to its use as a dwelling for the tenant; and
- (b) the onus of proof that a chattel or moveable house is of a value less than two hundred dollars shall be on the landlord.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in subsections (3) or (4) a judgment or order under subsection (1) may be given or made by the Magistrate, where he or she considers it reasonable so to do, without proof of suitable alternative accommodation where—

- (a) the tenant has, within twelve months of the filing of the summons, been convicted of prædial larceny or of larceny of cattle or of having in his or her possession or under his or her control prædial produce which is reasonably suspected to have been stolen or unlawfully obtained; or
- (b) the tenant has been convicted of using or allowing the premises or any part thereof to be used for an immoral or illegal purpose; or
- (c) the tenant has committed acts of waste or been guilty of neglect or default whereby the premises have been injuriously affected; or

- (d) the tenant or any person residing or lodging with him or her or being his or her subtenant has been guilty of conduct which is a nuisance or annoyance to adjoining or adjacent occupiers of such premises.

(Amended by Act 7 of 1976)

Magistrate to issue warrant of possession.

7. If the Magistrate gives judgment for the recovery by the landlord of the possession of the land, he or she may forthwith issue a warrant of possession set forth in the Schedule.

Outgoing tenant may claim for unexhausted improvements.

8. Where by the custom of the country or otherwise the outgoing tenant is entitled to any compensation or allowance in respect of any unexhausted improvements which he or she has made on the subject matter of the tenancy, he or she may at any time make any claim or cross claim before a Magistrate against the landlord in respect thereof, and the Magistrate may, if he or she thinks it expedient, hear and determine any cross claim together with any claim to recover possession of the subject matter in respect of which the cross claim is made:

Provided that in the case of a cross claim, notice in writing of the particulars of such cross claim shall be given to the landlord three clear days before the day fixed for the hearing of the claim to recover possession :

Provided also that the Magistrate at the hearing shall have power to enlarge the time for the delivery of such notice as aforesaid, or for the hearing of the cross claim.

Landlord may claim mesne profits.

9. The landlord may, either together with his or her claim to recover possession of any premises or in answer to any claim or cross claim made in respect of any unexhausted improvements as aforesaid, claim to recover or to set off all arrears of rent and also mesne profits accruing in respect of such premises since the ending or determination of the tenancy.

Limit of Magistrate's jurisdiction in claims for improvements, arrears, or mesne profits.

10. No claim by the landlord against the tenant to recover or to set off any arrears of rent and mesne profits under section 9, and no claim or cross claim by the tenant against the landlord for unexhausted improvements under section 8, shall be entertained where such claim or cross claim exceeds the sum of one thousand dollars.

(Amended by Act 7 of 1976)

Warrant of possession may issue at any time.

11. Where a landlord is entitled to possession of any premises, the Magistrate may issue his or her warrant of possession notwithstanding that the cross claim is undetermined or unsatisfied.

Magistrate may appoint person to value improvements.

12. It shall be lawful for a Magistrate from time to time and at any time to appoint one or more persons to estimate the value of any unexhausted improvements in respect of which a claim or cross claim is made and to report in writing to the Magistrate thereon; and also to make such order as he or she thinks fit in respect of the expenses and remuneration of such persons.

Report of valuers to be evidence.

13. Such report in writing purporting to be signed by the person or persons appointed by the Magistrate in that behalf shall be received in evidence in all Courts until it be shown that such report was not so signed as aforesaid.

Officer executing warrant of possession to give possession to landlord.

14. The officer to whom the warrant of possession is directed shall with all convenient speed enter (by force if necessary) into the premises described in the warrant and give possession of the same to the landlord and may if necessary by force demolish or remove or demolish and remove any building on such premises.

Penalty for resisting or assaulting officer.

15. Any person who resists or molests or assaults such officer as aforesaid when engaged in the execution of such warrant as aforesaid or any estimator engaged in carrying out an order of a Magistrate's Court commits an offence against this Act and shall be liable on summary conviction, to be imprisoned with or without hard labour for any period not exceeding six months or to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars.

Penalty on person unlawfully retaking possession.

16. Any person who has been put out of possession under a warrant of possession and unlawfully retakes possession of the premises after possession has been given to the landlord commits an offence against this Act and shall be liable, on summary conviction, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour for any period not exceeding six months or to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars.

Appeal from order of possession.

17. Either party to any proceedings to recover possession of any premises under this Act may appeal from the decision of the Magistrate whatever may be the value of the subject matter in dispute.

Service of documents.

18. Service of any notice to quit or any summons or other process may be effected either personally on the person affected by the same or by leaving the same with some adult person at his or her last or most usual place of abode, or if the person to be served cannot be found, and the place of his or her abode either is not known or admission thereto cannot be obtained then by posting the same on some conspicuous place on the subject matter of the claim.

Jurisdiction of Magistrate not ousted where question of title arises.

19. Except as hereinafter provided the jurisdiction of the Magistrate shall not be ousted by the defendant bonâ fide setting up the title of a third person, unless he or she holds under or claims through such third person.

No claim for improvements made without sanction of landlord.

20. No person shall be entitled to make any claim for any unexhausted improvements unless such improvements have in all material particulars been made with the consent of the landlord.

Essentials of notice to quit.

21. (1) Every notice to quit served under the provisions of this Act shall be in writing and signed by the landlord or his or her agent or solicitor.

(2) The notice shall describe clearly the premises which are sought to be recovered and the proper day on which possession is to be given and shall not be ambiguous or optional.

Length of notice to quit in certain cases.

22. Where there is no agreement as to notice by deed or in writing between the parties the following provisions shall take effect—

- (a) in the case of a monthly tenancy, or a tenancy, for any shorter term than one month, a clear week's notice shall be given;
- (b) in the case of a quarterly tenancy or a tenancy for any term shorter than three months and longer than one month, a clear month's notice shall be given;
- (c) in the case of a half-yearly tenancy or a tenancy for any term shorter than six months and longer than three months, a clear two months' notice shall be given;
- (d) in the case of a yearly tenancy or any term shorter than one year and longer than a half year, a clear three months' notice shall be given;
- (e) in the case of any term longer than one year and not longer than seven years, a clear six months' notice shall be given;
- (f) in the case of any person being lawfully let into possession of any land by any other person without any period of tenancy whether limited or continuing being agreed upon either expressly or impliedly, a clear three months' notice shall be given;
- (g) in the absence of any evidence to the contrary, the time when the rent is paid or rendered shall be deemed to determine the nature of the tenancy as to whether it be monthly, quarterly or otherwise.

Notice to quit may be given at any time.

23. It shall not be necessary that a notice to quit under the last preceding section should expire at the end of the current term of the tenancy but it may be given at any time:

Provided that it does not expire before the time when any crop growing on the subject-matter of the tenancy would in the ordinary course be taken gathered or reaped.

Ejection in case of trespassers.

24. Where any person unlawfully obtains possession of and remains in occupation of any lands the value of which does not exceed one thousand dollars the person lawfully entitled to the immediate possession of the same may recover possession thereof under the provisions of this Act as though he or she were a landlord and as though the person unlawfully occupying the premises were a person holding over:

Provided that in such a case it shall not be necessary for the person seeking to recover possession of the premises to serve or prove the service of any notice to quit and such person shall only be required to prove that he or she is entitled to the immediate possession of the premises.

(Amended by Act 7 of 1976)

Power to stay proceedings where question of title involved.

25. Any Judge of the High Court upon application made to him or her and on being satisfied that in any proceedings commenced under this Act a bona fide question of title is involved may if he or she thinks it expedient order that the claim of the plaintiff be heard and determined in the High Court and thereupon all proceedings under this Act shall be stayed and the plaintiff shall be at liberty to prosecute his or her claim accordingly.

Procedure.

26. All proceedings under this Act whether civil or criminal shall be taken and had in the manner and form prescribed by the Magistrate's Code of Procedure Act, Cap. 3.17, and all the provisions of such last mentioned Act shall apply to all such proceedings as aforesaid except so far as they are repugnant to the provisions of this Act.

Forms.

27. The forms set forth in the Schedule hereto may be used in proceedings under this Act and shall be valid and effectual therein.

Attorney-General may alter forms and prescribe fees.

28. The Attorney-General may add to, amend and cancel the forms set forth in the Schedule and may direct what fees are to be taken in respect of any proceedings under this Act.
